Children Find
Tiger Albino
Squirrel

WORTH THEIR WEIGHT IN GOLD—The Gregory Molanone triplets, shown here with Nurse Mary Leopold in a Santa Monica, California, hospital, were awarded $5,000 from Lloyd's of London in a policy against multiple births. Cost of the policy to the father was $200. Left to right, the babies are: Michelle, 4 lbs., 4 oz.; Mary Louise, 4 lbs., 7 oz.; and Gregory Robert, 6 lbs., 8 oz.

GIVING THE BRIDE AWAY—Pretty polio victim, Lucille Ruggles, of Hope, Ark., was literally carried away at her wedding. Seen above in the arms of her father, William Ruggles, she was carried down the aisle of the Atlanta, Ga., church. Her bridegroom, Robert Spough of Atlanta, swept her up and carried her to her new home after the ceremony.

ALBINO BABY—Warning, mothering and feeding a tiny albino squirrel thrills three Washington kids who found it, apparently sick and orphaned. Kate Mobley, eight, at left, coaxes him to eat. Her sister Kismet, 15, holds him while the third sister, Patty, 12, fixes a special bottled formula recommended by animal experts at the zoo.

Here's the Answer

TRAIL TOYMAKER—This pretty girl is in the 51-foot ship across the Atlantic. Seen above in New York harbor, the ship owned by Howard Fuller carries a crew of six. Fuller plans to return in the ship in September.

FLAMERPROOF FIREMAN—Walking through flames unscathed is the German fireman seen above. He is demonstrating protective qualities of a flexible, flameproof suit at an exhibition held in Bonn, Germany.

TOOTIN' TROUT FOR TEACHERS—Pretty Penn State co-ed Ginger Hamilton holds up her passing mark in fishing class, a newly-caught trout. An admiring classmate, Jim Stewart, smiles approvingly. They are pupils in the university's trout fishing class.

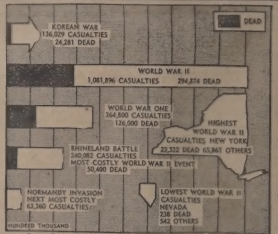

PANTES TO MATCH—A full-skirted summer party suit with matching pants are modeled by Elizabeth Cruise of Santa Barbara, Calif. The outfit has a lightning petticoat and a clever, strapping bodice. Miss Cruise has the title of "Miss Santa Barbara" of 1953.

GOSH!—Absolutely fascinated, this youngster looks on in soaring wonderment as G. B. Chittenden, a Cherokee Indian, carves wood figures such as those above. Chittenden demonstrates each year at the Craftsman's Fair of the Southern Highlands, held this year in Asheville, N.C.

WELCOME HOME, DADDY—Young Miss Martin Lamphreigh of Newfoundland, daughter of Petty Officer and Mrs. Gordon Lamphreigh, just couldn't wait until the gangway was adjusted before she gave daddy a big kiss. Mrs. Lamphreigh holds Martin while PO Lamphreigh greets her after a seven-week absence.

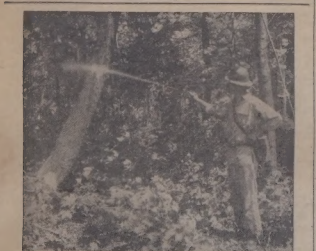

THE KOREAN WAR, after three years, has not cost the United States as many casualties as the European campaign of World War II which lasted from Sept. 15, 1944, to March 25, 1945, according to Defense Department figures. Less costly than the Korean war was the Normandy invasion which lasted from June 6, 1944, to July 24, 1944. The chart above also reveals that New York state, the most populous, had the highest number of casualties while Nevada, with the least population, had the least casualties. Other figures show comparative casualties for World War I and World War II.

GIRL OF THE HOUR—Marianne Stewart, Port Huron, Mich., gutter made history recently when she became the first Canadian to win the Arthur Hays Sulzberger Girl Champion. Miss Stewart, 12, is shown here with the Arthur Hays Sulzberger Girl Champion trophy. She is shown here with the Arthur Hays Sulzberger Girl Champion trophy. STRAIGHT SHOOTER—Joanne Rogers is sure to be a "straight-shooting" business when she takes over her father's business for the 1953 Belmont, Calif., rodeo, horse, fair and stock show. Little Joanne practices up for the stint with a little gun and rope study.

TREE MARKING—Marking trees with paint instead of an axe is simplifying controlled tree cutting operations in Canadian forests. The paint is a highly visible brilliant yellow developed by Canadian Industries Limited specifically for this marking. It may be applied with an Alamo gun or a pressure-type pressure sprayer. Trees for felling are marked at about eye level and at the base of the trunk. This system is at the Harrington Forest Farm of the Canadian International Paper Company near Grenville, Que., where work is done to aid woodlot owners on the management of their stands on a sustained yield basis.
